

psychologistbook.com

We have talked about the different students under respective schools of thought. Using the information both in your book and online, create a pretend Facebook page for a particular psychologist(s). The Facebook page can include information about: background of the school of thought, your psychologists' life, what he/she/they contributed to the field of psychology, and any other important works/events/etc. that your psychologist was involved in. You may create this on the web, but you will need to hand in a hard copy which should be no shorter than 3 pages and no longer than 5 pages. You can design this using a computer, making it by hand, or some other creative way. All are acceptable. Remember that content is always the most important part. Do not spend all your time on format and forget the content!!

The First Page

On your first page (the wall) you should have all of the following

- Caesar's full Name
- One picture of your psychologist
- Date and place of birth of your psychologist
- Five real people from his/her time period who would realistically be friends with him/her this could other leaders, known friends, other psychologists, or anyone they might have been friends with. All of these people need to have been real people and people who would have been actual friends.
- 5-10 Wall posts that would have been made by your psychologist with response by his/her friends. You can time stamp these posts using information you find.

The Second Page

On the second page (the info section) you should have:

Basic Information:

- | | |
|-----------------------|---------------------|
| • Gender | • School of thought |
| • Relationship status | • Education level |

Personal information:

- From your research please include two activities your psychologist would enjoy doing.
- From your research please give at least two interests your psychologist would have had.

For the next few, please feel free to be as creative as you want but base them on what you learn and know about your psychologist. You must have two of the five following categories:

- | | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| • Three of their Favorite TV shows | • Three of their favorite movies |
| • Five REAL Facebook groups your psychologist might be in | • Two of their favorite bands |
| | • Three of their favorite books |

Third Page

Come up with 5 tweets (yes, they cannot exceed 140 characters...including spaces) that your psychologist might have posted. You must have at least one hashtag in each tweet! #awesome!

Bibliography

You need to reference 3-5 sources and cite them using proper format!!

Extra Credit

On this you get to be really creative! On your pages you get to put everything else you might see on a regular Facebook page. You can be creative, but you should be able to explain why you chose what you did. Your choices should be based on what you know about your psychologist. Examples you could do would be:

- Different applications on his/her page.
- Gifts the person has received
- Notes the person may have written
- REAL Facebook games they might play
